Subtle boho style

DISCOVER MARKSLÖJD LAMPS INSPIRED BY THE WEALTH OF NATURE

The new products from the Swedish brand Markslöjd include many lamps made of natural materials, including: bamboo tree, rattan or banana fiber, which are a perfect complement to boho-style interior design.

The boho style was born at the end of the 18th century in France and was initiated by avant-garde artists who began to use natural materials, various fabrics and exotic patterns not only in fashion, but also in interior design.

The boho style in space arrangement flourished in the 1960s. Since then, the idea of cozy interiors, decorated with comfortable furniture, plant decorations, handmade ornaments and colorful carpets, has been gaining popularity all the time, and currently it is one of the hottest interior design trends.

Natural materials

Banana fiber, jute and bamboo wood are materials that perfectly fit the aesthetics of the boho style. The lampshades of Styrka, Strati, Capello and Rayo hanging lamps were made of them.

Just a glance is enough to admit that they will fit very well into arrangements where coziness and visual lightness are important. Especially that mild shades of brown and beige are the natural color palette of the boho style.

Montagna and Costero table lamps will also be an ingenious complement to the arrangement of such interiors. In addition to jute lampshades, attention is also drawn to their bases, made of concrete and glass, which will become even more attractive among other boho decorations.

The above-mentioned new products from Markslöjd are just a few lamps for boho-style interiors. You will find more inspiration on the following pages of the catalogue.

Anja & Filippa for Markslöjd

Our project "Styrka" is about strength and its various guises. The creative strength, the strength that comes from family, and the strength of true love.

We want to celebrate the female strength, the force within every woman. The shape of the lamp represents the female force, blossoming to a powerful form while spreading light to its surroundings.

HOW TO USE AUGMENTED REALITY (AR) FILES?

1

2

Click on the file you want to open.

The selected file will open automatically by using default camera application.

3

Aim the camera lens at the place where you want to try on the lamp.
